FOREWORD

● We have tried to present to you a panorama of S. T. C. scenes, friends, and activities. We hope that these still-life representations will serve as a sketch on which your memory will paint, in the colors of experiences and relationships, the complete picture of your school life.

● When the present becomes remote, and your fervor and aspirations have been reduced to placidity by age or disillusionment, if you chance to turn the pages of this volume and remember the happy days when many of your hopes and ideals were formed; then we have not failed.

DEDICATION

● We, the Senior Class of '34, are fortunate in having for our sponsor the head of the history department, a humanitarian and a philosopher. As a class, we appreciate him for his sincere interest in our various projects and for his wise counsel, in our difficulties. As Tennesseans, we esteem him for his continued and laborious efforts in the betterment of the State's governmental and social conditions. As students, we respect the things for which he stands. We have begun to understand the complexities of the problems that confront us and to believe that their solution is not impossible. Because of this clear-mindedness and faith, it is with sincere respect and appreciation that we dedicate this volume of the 1934

ATHLETICS

Coach Dick Ostlen Coach E. M. Waller Albert Middleton

COACHES

Coach Waller came to us this year confronted with a real problem. The coach before him had instilled ideas and had them and their bearings well set. One man cannot step into another's place and proceed exactly as the former, so by nature the task was great. However, by his efficiency and stickability he has done the job well. Friendly, likable, fun-loving, Coach Waller has already won for himself a place in the hearts of his boys and the entire student body. We wish for him the success of a genius and that his teams in the future may make enviable records to hang up in his praise.

Dick, one of the smartest athletes and one of the most diligent workers ever to attend S. T. C., was awarded the job of moulding the athletic interests and skills for all the boys who wished to become athletes, as soon as they entered the college. Exceptionally well has he performed his duties. May he reach the peak of success is our sincerest wish.

Middleton, a voluntary assistant in football in '34, was a star on the 1932 team of University of Tennessee playing the role of fullback. A hefty, sturdy bulk of fire and determination, he has proven himself worthy of great praise in our midst. He boasts the record of never having played in a game of football when his team came out on the small end of the score, and he played four years in high school in Connecticut and two years with U. T. There are prospects of his being appointed assistant to Coach Waller for the coming year, and all the boys, and those others who know "Al," know that no better selection could be made.

FOOTBALL INDIVIDUALS

CAPTAIN BROWNLOW SHARPE

Brownie hails from Mt. Pleasant, Tennessee. Although in the first play of the first college game he ever played some opponent was rude enough to kick him in the head, making him lose his helmet, he turned out to be one of the best of linemen and an efficient leader in his senior year. He always took his football seriously.

SMARTT PARIS

Smartt was a dependable cog on both offense and defense. Many are the times that he has made the opposition suffer from his powerful tackles and blocks. He has finished his job of four years of varsity competition "Magna cum laude."

CLINTON "WARPEE" CHARLES

The big Injun from Greenbrier—a valuable man on defense and offense alike. Although he did drop a pass over the goal line in a game which ended 0 to 0, he was always in there fightin'! "Warp" has wound up his string of football service and he will be missed in years to come.

GRAY SANDS

Gray, a victim of a bad knee, will be here one more season, and when a few yards are needed for that ole "first down," just hope that Gray gets the ball. As well as playing hard and getting his men in the game, he gets his (wo)men elsewhere. But on the grid, they trouble him not.

RED OWEN

The punt returner and end circler is plenty fast and durable. He has another year of service to render, and here's predicting his greatest, although he has already done some wonderful things for the S. T. C.ians when they needed a touchdown to win. Remember the punt he returned seventy yards at Union as the whistle blew. Score, S. T. C., 7; Union, 0.

FOOTBALL INDIVIDUALS

GEORGE SHARPE

George, the big brother of Brownlow, stands out in the line play in all games. He is a near two hundred pounder and handles that center position like "Sherman handled Georgia." Next year sees George in his final year. Much is expected of him, too.

"WIN" MOORE

Win played three years and went to West Point, but returned this year to fill his old shoes of gaining the ground and scoring the points. Although handicapped most of the year by injury, Win was always dangerous when he had the ball. Win, too, leaves us this year.

TOM BRANDON

A bulwark in the line was Tom, and he played his football with sincerity. Tom had a hard time getting things arranged to be eligible, but when he did, he was well fitted for the tasks assigned him.

BUCK EDWARDS

Two hundred and twenty pounds of dynamite! When Buck throws his headgear out to the sideline, some opponent is in for a tough time. Buck has one more year, and we are counting on him. We are sure he'll come through with his part O. K.

JOE WALLACE

The only married man on the squad has one more year to handle the right end of things for the Blue and White, and when we say "right end," we also say he does it right. On offense, Joe can snag those passes, and if nobody will bother he'll run.

FOOTBALL INDIVIDUALS

BURRHEAD SIMMONS

Burrhead, the toughest member of the squad, or of any other squad, so he says, is only a Soph, but he cavorts about on the gridiron like a veteran. And does he have his females lined up? "Simmons," as he calls himself, may be counted upon for his part.

JOHN HOOVER

The curly-haired blond from down Smyrna way is another of the crop of Sophs. He is a back with plenty of speed, and if he doesn't come through and become one of the best backs out there next year, we're all badly fooled. He, too, has a liking for the fair sex and can't keep away from them.

CLAYTON FOSTER

Handicapped by injuries most all season, Foster showed that he would be counted among the Sophs to step in and help fill the vacancies made by graduation. Weighing one hundred ninety pounds, fast, a good kicker, passer, and runner, he should become one of the best S. T. C. has seen. Oh, yes; don't forget the bright side of his college life, although she is a brunette.

CHARLES SARVER

The lineman converted into a back that proved the best change of the season. With power, speed, and skill, Sarver has mingled plenty of the old "intestinal fortitude," so in the close-ups watch for Sarver, he'll be hittin' somebody, and plenty hard.

BILL OVERBY

Bill came to us from Austin Peay and made a very valuable cog in the forward wall. He is expected to help carry the burden of the forwards next year, a job he can do full well. He is tough and one of the most aggressive in the ranks.

VARSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD

VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

1934 BASKETBALL

The Squad, under the leadership of Frosh Coach Dick Osteen most of the season, due to the illness of Coach Waller, was very impressive, especially at the close of the season, winning the last six games. Some of these were over opposition which beat them in the first of the two-game series. Captain Butch Young, playing his final season, presented on every occasion a stellar type of basketball. His average for the season was near twenty points in fifteen games. Jim Norton, a boy who has a lame leg, handled the ball as well as Lapchick or any of the others. This being his first year to see any great amount of service, he is expected to carry the burden of the Teacher offense next year. Off the floor, Norton is a regular monkey man, but on the court it is basketball and nothing else. Here's to Jimmie, who has friends on every corner and in the cafeteria a girl at every table. Gray Sands comes in on the basketball as well as football, being one of the guards to help stave off the trials for goal of the opponents. Bill Bass, the greatest back guard ever to perform for the Blue and White, has finished his college career, and as far as basketball and books are concerned, Bill has been doing his part. Joe Wallace comes in, too, with creditable performances in both basketball and football.

BASKETBALL INDIVIDUALS

YOUNG—Center and Forward
ALSUP—Center
SIMMONS—Forward
MANSFIELD—Forward
BASS—Guard
NORTON—Guard
SANDS—Guard
EZELL—Guard
WALLACE—Forward

Kenneth Ezell was one of the season's finds in the cage activities, and proved himself well worthy of highest mention. Burrhead Simmons—remember how Burr worried the ever watchable Midgett in our closing game vs. T. P. I.? Mansfield—remember the "Mae West" shot he made against Chattanooga? Nothing more need be said of Mansfield when we say he fought hard, because we could tell from his expressions and actions just after he missed a crip shot. He got knocked awful "flat" down at Union—ask Norton!!! Peyton Alsup came down from David Lipscomb and the City League in Nashville to play for old S. T. C., and was handling the spot O. K. till he turned an ankle, which kept him out most of the remainder of the season.

The season was filled with thrills on the home court and some close results on the floors abroad. A good season is predicted next year with several capable ineligibles ready for service, and the crop of Freshmen material available for service after the tutoring received from Coach Richard Osteen.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL SQUAD

The Frosh did not receive what might have been due them this year, as their very able coach was troubled with the Varsity most of the year. The rats put into the game all they had, though, and never once did a team play them that didn't have a handful for the evening. Wag, Hessey, Colvert, Coleman and others stood out in the cage performances as they did in the football games. We are expecting some aid from these boys next year to fill the shoes of Butch Young and Bill Bass. So, Frosh, "great is your requirement."

DREAM TEACHERS

I once dreamed that I was awake and had gone to school on time. I went to chapel and found all the students of the school assembled there—only Miss Saunders was absent. All were quiet and orderly. Mr. Lyon arose and addressed the assembly, "Why do you come to chapel when you can take advantage of your opportunities to better advantages elsewhere. . . . Yesterday was bad, today is worse, and I shudder when I think of tomorrow. We cannot carry on." When chapel was over I went to classes and heard and saw there many a strange thing: Dr. Sims crawled from under his desk where he had been sleeping, and harangued the class, "You shall not disparage the great men of history in my presence. There has never been a great historical figure that has not conducted himself like an honest gentleman . . . and furthermore, as a good republican, I will say that Herbert Hoover was the greatest President of all times." In English an embryonic scholar stated fervently that he had read The Idiot, by Dostoeffski. Mr. Mankin glared at him and roared, "What do I care what you have read. I think The Idiot was written by an idiot. . . . I only tell a joke once . . . and furthermore, capitalism is great." Miss Ordway said in a flat, hill dialect that Shakespeare was a dull moron. Dr. Lewis did not grin behind a threatening forefinger, nor did he eulogize, "My grandson, Billy. . . ." Mr. Davis told a joke and made no comment. The class did not laugh. Miss Monohan started the class thus, "Students, let me have your attention. I am worried about you boys and girls. You do not manifest enough interest in one another; so I shall turn my class into an hour of social activities. I have ordered some Scotch and pre-flood Short Mountain corn to be brought up." Mr. Jones said, "When you finish this course you will know a lot of math." Miss Green said, "Class, I shall tell you when you are to have a test, for I want to make it easy for you to pass." Dr. Mebane said, "That is impossible; nothing like that ever happened. . . . No, I have no tale that could compare with that." Prof. Woodward roared with mirth when someone told him a joke, but never told it to anyone. Miss Schardt was angry during class and never a smile lighted her countenance. Miss Frizzell said, "All these new methods for child teaching are 'hooey.' The child is of no importance anyway; so why spend any time on them." Miss Bachtel said, "Quit speaking of frogs. The subject embarrasses me." Dr. Waller said, "The present system of education is wonderful. I hope all of you become teachers. You prospective teachers should specialize—especially in such things as Latin and mathematics. I have no criticisms to make of anything." Dr. Bruner had returned and came to class in overalls. He said that the only way to teach foreign languages was by drills upon conjugations. When I came out of the classes, I started to the Science Hall via the sidewalk. Mr. Bayer called to me, "Why don't you cut across the grass; it will save you time. That's why I had the students wear that path in the grass." This was too much. I began having convulsions and knew in my dream that I was dreaming.

SALMAGUNDI

(With profound apologies to W. Winchell, et al.)

Flash—a perfumed zephyr from the orange-covered shores of Florida wends its way to the North and deposits its rather plump burden in our midst, taking the place of a football in the arms of our redoubtable hero. Who said ya got to be a football hero? Nerts.

Forty-eight human smokestacks apprehended in crime—where do they go, those smoke rings I blow? Must have gone far enough to strike terror in the timid maiden's heart.

Who's the big handsome man seen carrying a black zipper bag over various portions of the campus on week-ends? Characteristic pose—munching a banana. Name? Somebody told me Sammy—yes, the one and only. Don't break your necks, girls.

Flash—co-ed gets doggy. No, boys, you can't keep dogs in the dormitory. It's an old story, but "love me, love my dog."

Nominations for oblivion

Booth artists—no, not telephone booths.

Gals what laugh in a high falsetto with their mouths open.

Campus couples that float on oceans of divine bliss one day and spend the next telling their none-too-interested audience what heels their girl or boy friend, as the case may be, is because they can't appreciate them.

Gals as big as the Empire State what try to be coy—half-pint sizes what try to act big.

The guy who says, "gimme that duck," when it's still an inch long and then waits around with a hungry look in his eyes till sorrow gets the best of you and you let him have the two last drags.

The guy that pops up with the catchy "it shore does"—so reassuring, too.

The underworld element what greets the new arrival with "Hi, Keed." Apologies to the entire goat tribe.

Persons what ruin a perfectly good radio program by joining in on the chorus. Notice all sopranos.
